

Tangram

Special Activity

Osmo GENIUS

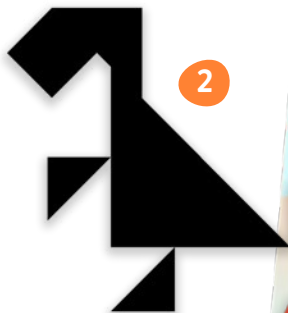

Dinosaur MONTH

Play Dino Days!

This month's special themed world contains 6 new puzzles for you to solve. Can you tell what they are?

To get started, open Osmo Tangram and then tap on this special button.

Solve all puzzles to unlock Special Treasures!

Genius Spotlight: Jim Gary

You know the phrase "one man's trash is another man's treasure"? In the case of sculptor Jim Gary, that's pretty true!

Jim started building things from a young age. Growing up in New Jersey, he wanted a bike to get around, so he got some parts from a local junkyard and built one. For years, Jim continued tinkering around in the junkyard, building things with what he could find.

One day, he realized the scrap pieces looked like animal body parts, especially dinosaur bones. That gave him an idea...

Jim started building huge dinosaurs sculptures! Using hundreds of old car

Keep Reading for a Fun Activity →

More about: Jim Gary

parts, he'd weld together 60 foot long "bodies" and paint them bright colors. The sculptures were so big that Jim had to invent his own equipment to transport them.

Jim's "20th-Century Dinosaurs" became a travelling exhibit, visiting some of the most prestigious science museums. Jim's sculptures were part art, part science—and they were awesome to look at.

When it comes to trash, maybe it's just imagination that helps turn it into someone else's treasure!

Stegosaurus by Jim Gary

Create Your Own Dino Sculpture

You can pretend your pasta pieces are really tiny car parts, like the ones Jim used to make his sculptures!

You'll need:

- Different pastas (uncooked)
- Construction paper
- Glue
- Optional: markers

- 1 Begin by looking up pictures of different dinosaur skeletons online, for inspiration.
- 2 Using one of those pictures (and your imagination!) as a guide, arrange pasta onto the paper in the shape of the dino skeleton.
- 3 When you're ready, glue the pasta pieces down.
- 4 Feel free to color the pieces with markers if you want to make them as colorful as Jim Gary's!

